First Kentucky Caught in Wreck
Before Reaching Fort Harrison at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 12.—A wreck in which two were killed, two seriously injured and many other persons received minor injuries occurred a half-mile east of the Brightwood yard limits shortly after 7 o'clock this morning.

Big Four train No. 9, due in Indianapolis at 7:45, struck a special from Louisville carrying the First Kentucky regiment to the army maneuvers at Fort Benjamin Harrison. The fireman on the soldiers' special was killed. The engineer jumped and escaped. The fireman was E. C. Ike, of Anderson. Maj. H. E. Mechling and nine enlisted men were injured. The soldiers were lucky in having at the head of their train behind the engine two cars filled with tents and equipment.

These cars took the force of the collision. A freight train crossed from north to south on the switch ten minutes before the accident and neglected to close the switch. This caused the wreck.

Samuel Densmore, engineer of No. 9, was killed. He lived in this city.

The two seriously injured are Charles Adams, fireman on No. 9, and George W. Kuntz, of Union City.

Many Wear Bandages
The camp trumpets and bugles were blowing for the noon mess when the train bearing the battered, travel-worn army of the First Kentucky Regiment arrived at Fort Benjamin Harrison maneuver camp to-day. In every car were men wearing bandages about their heads and scores of the Kentuckians walked with a limp when the companies were lined up to be marched to their quarters.

The regiment looked more like an organization just home from the war than one bound for a place of mimic battle. Awaiting the arrival of the train were several ambulances and the men suffering more severe injuries were hurried to the field hospital, among them being Maj. H. E. Mechling, of Louisville, commanding a battalion of the First Kentucky, who was carried from the train on a litter, as was Lieut. Van Winkle, of Lexington, attached to the Second Kentucky.

Lieut. VanWinkle was traveling to camp with the officer of the First Regiment, Major Melching, both riding in the Pullman on the rear of the troop train. When the crash came, the two officers who were seated facing each other, came together and the collision resulted seriously. It is believed that Maj. Melching's jaw is broken. Lieut. VanWinkle is suffering much pain in the head and may have a broken arm.

Both officers were hurried to the field hospital in an ambulance, and they probably will be returned home as soon as they are able to travel.
Regiment Badly Shattered.
The First Regiment is badly shattered by the wreck that it is likely this organization will not be able to participate in any of the maneuvers for several days.

THE KILLED
Samuel Densmore, Indianapolis, engineer train No. 9.

THE INJURED
E. C. Ike, Anderson, Ind., fireman soldiers train.

Charles Adams Bellefontaine, O., fireman train No. 9, back wrenched, may be internally injured. Edward Griswold, of Wabash, Ind., engineer of soldiers' train, severe scalp wounds and concussion of the brain. George W. Kurtz, of Union City, Ind., left foot crushed. Slightly injured: Paul Weller, of Louisville, Ky., militiaman, shoulder sprained, arm bruised; C. B. Hobley, Hotel Edward, Indianapolis, bruised; F. C. Wagner, Terre Haute, bruised, scalp wound; Carl Kohen, 31 South Oriental street, Indianapolis, bruised; George Kunn, Vincennes, bruised; Miss Cora Robertson, Hillsboro, Ill., shocked and bruised; Mrs. A. L. Schram, Hillsboro, Ill., shocked and bruised; George L. Mackey, Detroit, bruised; T. L. Weaver, Detroit, cut by glass, bruised; M. C. Bierdman, Detroit, bruised; Ed Denger, 3552 Central avenue, Indianapolis, bruised. Besides these eight militiamen were slightly hurt.

Immediately after the First Kentucky arrived in camp the work of the pitching camp was commenced.

The news of the wreck did not reach the headquarters of the army camp until shortly after 10 o'clock. Gen. Chas. L. Hodges, who is in charge of the army maneuvers, ordered all available hospital wagons dispatched to the scene. Owing to the fact that the wreck occurred twelve miles from the post, there was great delay and the injured were not placed in the hospital until after noon.

Gloom hangs over the camp of the Kentucky soldiers, and they are going about their work in a listless manner.

He left Tuesday for Cave Spring in Livingston county to conduct a meeting, assisted by Rev. R. A. LaRue.

In consequence of the revival services in progress at the Main street Presbyterian church, Rev. M. E. Miller of the Baptist church and Rev. J. B. Adams of the Methodist church called in their appointments for last Sunday night and with most of their flocks, went to hear Rev. Harrison on "Ye Must be Born Again."

MONDAY WAS THE OUR FLUOR SPAR BANNER DAY INDUSTRY.

A Big Crowd in Town With Stock, Leaving More than $20,000
with Our two Banks.

On Monday morning bright and early, people commenced to congregate in Marion from all parts of Crittenden, Livingston and Caldwell counties, with a goodly number of prominent stock men and buyers from Morganfield and Hopkinsville. There were more fine horses and mules exhibited and sold at good prices than ever known on any previous Court day in the history of Marion, more than twenty thousand dollars being left on deposit in our two banks. The greatest number of mules bought by any one buyer went to R. M. Young of Morganfield. They numbered 25 and were all last Spring mules. The price paid averaged $100.00. Jno. Cambron of Morganfield and Chas. Lane and Levell Bros., of Hopkinsville bought quite a number of mules from 3 to 8 years old, paying good prices.

While Crittenden county is noted for fine mules the display Monday was far in advance of that of any previous occasion. And even with all the fancy prices paid and offered, many refused them and lead their stock home.

But the best bargain of the whole day was the Graves farm near Dycusburg, in good neighborhood, and reasonably good land, bought by Gus Graves for $450.00 for the 130 acres. Why go west when you can buy land this cheap in Crittenden. The land was sold by Judge J. G. Rochester as County Commissioner.

When R. M. Young & Co. and John Cambron started their fine drove of young mules for Union county Tuesday morning early, it attracted as much attention as would Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show.

Notwithstanding the fact that such days are not usually the best days for the merchants, they, on this occasion reaped a rich harvest and especially did the Restaurants and Hotels do a land office business. In fact there was nothing but eating and trading.

Mr. Babb sold over 500 water-melons Monday to the restless hungry crowd, keeping a man busy wheeling off the rinds.

J. H. Orm and Haynes & Taylor, our two popular drug firms had their cold drink counters and tables full of customers all day.

Mrs. M. E. Glass and Miss Addie Maynard reaped a rich harvest in subscription for the Record-Press Monday, polling above one hundred thousand votes.

What it Means now and What it Will Mean a Year Hence at Present Pace.

The greatest fluor spar district in the world is located in 5 adjoining counties in Kentucky and Illinois. Crittenden, Livingston and Caldwell counties in Kentucky, adjoining Pope and Hardin counties in Illinois and separated by the Ohio river.

Since the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill went into effect carrying a protective duty of $3.00 per ton on spar its price has gradually risen until today gravel spar, that formerly sold for $3.50 and $4.00 per ton is now worth $8.00 per ton, lump spar $10.00 and ground spar $12.00 per ton.

These prices have stimulated to a marked degree interest in spar as a mining proposition. Activity in mining in the last few months has taken on a new aspect, especially in Crittenden county, which is the center of the district.

Some of the biggest operators in the country are investigating this section and laying plans for future work. The Illinois Steel Company, one of the component parts of the one thousand million dollar steel trust has had their expert Mr. Brady of Chicago in this section almost continuously for several months past. The result has been that the Illinois Steel Company has option on some of the best properties and it is a safe prediction that they will become producers on a large scale sometime next year.

The average man as a rule knows nothing about fluor spar. He usually spells the word fluor spar and has no idea at all of the many uses now found for this peculiar mineral. Fluor spar is used in making hydrofluoric acid, for fluxing purposes, making white enamel and many kindred uses too numerous to mention. The ore mined in Crittenden county is the purest in the world and therefore most highly prized by the makers of hydrofluoric acid. Mineral for this purpose must be 97 to 99 1-2 per cent pure.

There has been shipped from this station here at Marion and at Mexico, Kentucky the first six months of this year over twenty million pounds of fluor spar. Unless pencil and paper are used it is hard to realize how much this means to the people of Crittenden county in money. We give below the different mines in this county now in operation and the average number of men employed by each.

Givens Mining Co., H. O. Ratcliffe, Supt. 17 men.
Franklin Mining Co., C. E. Ratcliffe, Manager. 8 men.
Glendale Mining Co., Mr. Height, Manager. 12 men.
Kentucky Fluor Spar Co., operating mill at Marion and mines, C. S. Nunn, President. 30 men.

Pope Mining Co., Wm. Lowery, Manager. 10 men.
Keystone Mine, Dave Wolford Supt. 14 men.
Susie Beeler Mine, Dr. R. L. Moore, Manager. 8 men.
Pierce Mine, John Harpending, Manager. 3 men.
Hoosier Mining Co., operating on old Tabb vein, George Cramer, Manager. 16 men.
Birmingham Fluor Spar and Lead Co., Wm. Bibby, Manager. 8 men.

Blue Grass Fluor Spar Co., T. H. B. Haase, Manager. 21 men.
Kentucky and Indiana Mining Co., W. J. Oliver, Manager. 8 men.

American Fluor Spar Mining Co., W. Richards, Manager. 10 men.

OTHER MINES AND

DIFFERENT PROSPECTS

LaRue Mines, Zinc Sulphide, James Frazier, Supt. 10 men.
Miller Mines, Zinc Carbonate, James Frazer, Supt. 8 men.

Prospects 15.

Men employed 198; Superintendents and Managers 17; total 215 men.

These will average over $2.00 per day which would amount to $430 per day.

There are over 40 teams hauling which would amount to $200.

Coal, lumber supplies and all other supplies will average $10 per day to the mine and for 17 mines will amount to $170.

Amount daily expended for 17 mines $800.00.

This $800.00 per day is expended in Crittenden county and the benefit accrue to all alike.

The low price spar reached prior to the passage of the Payne tariff bill closed down a great many of the mines in this district. The biggest operators felt that they were giving away their product. The prices obtained barely covered the cost of production. They believed that it was best to let the spar rest in the ground rather than mine and give it away.

The Marion Mineral Co., quit operating their mines in this district in the fall of 1907. One of their best properties was the Pogue Mine which was closed when it was producing 100 tons of gravel spar per day and the work was carried on in a vein 40 feet wide. It is more than likely that this mine will open again in the course of two or three months.

The Albany Mining & Investment Co., closed down the Nancy Hanks mine at a time it was producing 34 to 40 tons of first class spar daily and working in a vein 5 to 10 feet in width. This mine produces a very fine grade of spar peculiarly adapted to grinding, in fact all of the spar mined there has been ground in their mill in Marion, Ky., and shipped except the last 4,000 tons.

The Kentucky Fluor Spar Co., operating some of the best mines in the world, chief of which is the famous Memphis, practically closed operations three years ago with ten thousand tons of spar on the rail road track. The rise in the price of spar moved all this. It is predicted that all their properties will be in operation in the near future.

The effect of the tariff, the natural increase of business and the numerous new uses to which spar has lately been put accounts for the rise in price. The users of spar have nearly doubled their demand in the last 5 years.

There is one other question that enters into the spar proposition and that is the road question. We do not have good roads in this county and the farmers and haulers are paying the price of bad roads. Co-operation is the keynote for good roads. If the farmers and haulers and the miners will get together much can be done and a movement started that will not stop until all the roads in Crittenden are good roads. A canvass of the mine owners and managers and the haulers show that they are alive to good roads and they

SULLENGER NOMI- NATED FOR JUDGE.

Won Over His Five Worthy Opponents, Receiving 9 to 6 on the "Home Stretch."

Pursuant to a previous call the Republican County Committee met in the Court room Monday afternoon and presided over by chairman A. A. Haynes, proceeded to ballot for the most available candidate for county Judge.

There were five candidates: J. E. Sullingers, G. T. Belt, T. F. Newcom, R. E. Wilson, and J. M. Walker, all of which received the same number of votes on the first ballot from the 15 committeemen.

But after repeated balloting the race narrowed down to Sullinger and Belt, when on the last ballot Sullinger received 9 votes to Belt 6, when with harmony and the best of feeling prevailing he was unanimously declared the nominee.

The good feeling prevailing was the best compliment that could have been paid Mr. Sullinger as it proved that the committeemen and the other candidates recognized in him the combined qualities of leader and gentleman.

Rev. E. B. Blackburn preached to the congregation at Clay last Sunday. Bro. Blackburn met with a warm reception and was warmly requested to come back on next First Sunday, which invitation he accepted.

DEMOCRATIC COUN- TY COMMITTEE

Called by Chairman M. F. Pogue to Meet Saturday, Spt. 24th. at Court House.

The Crittenden County Democratic Committee is hereby called to meet in Marion on Saturday, September. 24th at one o'clock p. m. for the transaction of important business.

A full attendance of the Committee is earnestly requested.

M. F. POGUE, Chairman
T. H. COCHRAN, Secretary.

have this proposition to make. A great many of the haulers will give from ten to twenty days each with teams and wagons to help fix the roads. A number of the mine owners and managers have stated their willingness to furnish a man and pay for his labor all summer long if the county will put up a rock crusher to crush limestone rock. Crushed limestone rock, haulers and their teams and wagons will solve the road question. By this means it would be possible to get a part of the roads in good shape each year. Year by year this work could go on and one good road added each year would make many. It would not take many good roads in Crittenden County to educate the balance of the county in their money value. Whenever Crittenden County realizes what she loses each day on account of bad roads, and the hindrance they are to the proper development of her mineral resources she will wake up. Good roads will mean the greatest mining district in the world.

JAD WILSON'S CROP.

This poem from the pen of J. Tandy Ellis is such a true story of the thousand that have been kept under by the Trusts that we reproduce it from our worthy neighbor, the Cadiz Record:

Jad Wilson had been croppin'
Well I reckon, twenty years,
A raisin' uv tobacco
An' a croppin' on the sheer.
An' when each year was windin'
up
It was the same old thing.
He had as much at Christmas
As he started with in Spring.
The expenses kept a climbin'
And his children numbered more,
Oh, the Lord delights in sendin'
Lots of children to the poor,
But Jad kept on a scratchin',
On his face there came no
frown,
But the price of old white burley,
Kep' a drappin' steady down.
And he wrestled with the
fox-tail,
And the creepe-vines and weeds,
And the pussly and the cut-
worms,
An' the sweat stood out in beads
On his bald head as he hustled
But no cheers came floatin' roun,
For the papers had predicted
That the crop would sell 'way down.

In the winter when the buyers
Come a ridin' to his barn
With their hides all soaked with licker,
Seems they didn't give a darn
If they bought it or they left it,
As they glanced the samples
o'er,
"We will give you six cents fur it
And a nary red cent more."

So Jad Wilson had to take it,
'Twas three cents it meant for him,
But he buckled up his girdle
An' he faced the future grim,
Oh the little ones were ragged,
And their little feet were cold,
But the men who bought his burley
Grinned behind their piles of gold.

Did you ever get to thinkin'
How conditions sometimes change
How the under dog comes out on top?
I don't know but its strange—
The farmer didn't note the fact
That he was such a fool
Till he hoisted up the prices
By the riggin' up a pool.

Jad Wilson was among the first
To take his pen in hand
And grace the contrac' with his name,
Says he, "I'll take my stand,
An' here I'll stay till judgment
Day
A fightin' till I bust
The hand that's been a chokin'
me—
Here's one agin the Trust!"

You know the fight and struggle,
How they begged them to come in,
How they shouldered up to together,
How they headed up to win;
And I reckon you remember
When the pool crop all was sold—
Jad Wilson's little children
They wer'n't ragged or were cold.

Jad bought a parlor organ
And a white oak foldin' bed,
And the things he bought for Christmas,
From a tin horn to a sled!
Oh 'twas Christmas in the cottage,
Happy voices everywhere,
And it seemed to old Jad Wilson
That the Lord had dropped in there.

And that night his voice was lifted
In a prayer so deep and long—
"Good Lord stand by the poolers,
And keep 'em stiff and strong,
And bless our friends and neighbors
And all the folks about—
Bless all but them dam pikers
Who flickered and stayed out!"

JAMES TANDY ELLIS, on Burley Pool.

ANNUAL MEETING OF ASSOCIATION

Met at Henderson September 3d.
Meeting Harmonious and Profitable Throughout.

The annual meeting of the members of the Stemming District Tobacco Association was, as provided for in the constitution and by-laws, held in the city of Henderson on yesterday, the first Saturday, the third day of September, 1910. His Honor, Mayor W. I. Thompson, very considerably tendered the Association the use of the council chamber and the meeting was held therein, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m.

Delegates were present from all five counties, Crittenden alone sending as many as 26 delegates, and the city hall was crowded.

Hon. F. F. Brown called the meeting to order. And the invocation was earnestly delivered by the Rev. James Vernon, the resident minister of the Christian church. Following this came the opening speech of the chairman, which was listened to with marked attention. The speech was of such time-merit and importance as to warrant publication in full.

At the conclusion of his speech the chairman was vigorously applauded. He then announced the election of permanent chairman to be in order. Judge Aaron Towery, of Crittenden, in earnest words of tribute and in touching terms of high appreciation placed Mr. F. F. Brown in nomination. Motion seconded, with a like tribute, by I. N. Baker, of Webster county. Motion carried unanimously. And then, with like unanimity, J. N. Banks was made secretary of the meeting.

Reports were then called for by the chairman and was first responded to by William Elliott, General Manager and Warehouseman for the Association. His report with minute details covered all transactions relating to the 1908 crop of tobacco and his report was elucidated at every stage by full, patient and deliberative explanatory comments. At the conclusion of his report he was warmly applauded and on motion of Hiram Dean, of Union county, the report was ordered received and filed, and a rising vote of thanks was unanimously extended Mr. Elliott for loyal, honorable and able administration of the offices of General Manager and Warehouseman.

And then followed the reports of Secretary E. G. Thompson on the 1909 and 1908 crops. Both reports were minute of details and very comprehensive, and the Secretary in the clearest manner explained receipts and expenditures. At the conclusion of his report and explanatory comments the Secretary was, on motion made and carried, unanimously tendered a rising vote of thanks and confidence for the faithful performance of his duties.

And then on motion adjourned
JAMES N. BANKS,
Secretary.

ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL

Writes J. S. Newcom in Answer To Inquiry, as to Selling School Houses to Pay Old Debts

State Capitol,
Mr. J. S. Newcom,
Weston, Ky.

Dear Sir:—Your letter of recent date, addressed to the Attorney General, was duly received and in reply to same beg to advise you as follows:

When the school law of 1910 was passed, it did not say anything about who should pay off the old debts owing by the common school districts, and this department, in an opinion to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, ruled that these old debts should be paid by the County Board of Education out of the county school tax which the act authorized to be levied and collected. The Court of Appeals, however, in the recent case of Logan County Fiscal Court vs. County Board of Education of Logan county, held to the contrary, and under the construction as the court has placed it now the old districts will have to pay off this indebtedness, notwithstanding the fact the County Board of Education takes the fee simple title to all the school property. I do not think the schoolhouse could under any circumstances now be sold to pay these old debts. The only way the old debt could be paid would be by levying a tax on the old district, under the provisions of the old law. I do not know just how this should be done. There are only two ways by which it can be done—one by the appointment of three trustees under the old law, as suggested in your letter, and the old trustees and making the levy and collection. While this seems to work a hardship upon the districts, it is unmistakably the only remedy that is now left.

Yours very truly,
TOM B. MCGREGOR,
Assistant Attorney General.

Free Dyspepsia Sample

Sufferers from indigestion are waking up to the fact that peppermint lozenges, charcoal and "dyspepsia cures" are only makeshifts in the cure of so troublesome a complaint as chronic indigestion. What is required is something that will not only relieve but which will tone and train the digestive apparatus to again do its work normally, and this these simple remedies cannot do.

There is something more to the cure of indigestion than sweetening the breath, and yet a remedy that only contains digestive ingredients will not cure permanently, as the basis of indigestion is poor bowel circulation, and that requires a scientific laxative. We know of no remedy that combines these requirements better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which has been sold for a quarter of a century.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a laxative tonic, a scientific blending of natural ingredients for the cure of constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, sour stomach, sick headache and similar complaints. Its ingredients will so strengthen and tone the stomach and bowel muscles that they will again do their work naturally, and when that has been accomplished your trouble is over. Fannie Stuart, Maunton, Va., was a long-time sufferer, as was O. Tuck, Blackburn, Mo., and they both found their cure with this remedy. They became convinced that pills and tablets, salts, "dyspepsia cures," etc., were at best only temporary reliefs. They first accepted Dr. Caldwell's offer of a free sample bottle, which he willingly sent to anyone who forwards name and address. Later, having convinced themselves through the free sample, they bought Syrup Pepsin of their druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter, and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 509 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Interest and Logical Appeal County Chairman Towery

The school at this place is progressing nicely.

The old Committee for Stemming District Tobacco Association met in Henderson, Ky., Sept. 2, to finish up the old business and then adjourned. The next morning at 8 o'clock the new committee met and organized with three new members and two old ones, then adjourned at 10 o'clock to meet with the annual meeting in the City Hall. Mr. F. F. Brown being elected permanent Chairman. After thanking the members of the association for the honor conferred upon him, he called for the annual report of the General Manager and Secretary, which were read and adopted by unanimous vote.

Said reports are open for inspection to any member of the Association, but not for publication.

Pooling is progressing very well. The 85 per cent. will be reached if Crittenden and Hopkins will do their duty. We earnestly request every tobacco grower that wants good prices to pool in one or the other Associations. One factory is controlled at Marion by the Farmers' Union People, while the other one will be strictly under the control of the Stemming people where strict rules and regulations will be enforced by said Association. We are informed that the Burley crop will not be more than half a crop, and the dark tobacco crop will fall far below an average crop. Therefore it is plain to be seen that an early sale at a good price is in sight.

Friends is it not true that in the most prosperous period in American history that the price of tobacco was driven below 3c. mark by an organized trust, regardless of the law of supply and demand? Is it not also true that the tobacco grower then organized and have succeeded in bringing ing the price back to meet the other levels of property.

Reader will you follow the one who drove the price of your tobacco to 3c. or will you follow those who sent it up to 7 1-4. If you pool in the Association which I represent I will promise you that your interest will be well cared for.

Thanking you for your past favors etc.

While Misses Eula Wheeler, Marie Ramage and Chas. Osawatomie, Kan., Aug. 31.—With elaborate ceremony, John Brown park, a tract of 22 acres on the ground where the battle of Osawatomie was fought 44 years ago yesterday, was dedicated today and presented to the state of Kansas. The culmination of the affair was the dedicatory address, which was delivered by Col. Theodore Roosevelt.

Preliminary exercises were held yesterday, and the program was resumed at 10:30 this morning with a concert by the Thirtieth Regiment band, followed by a drill by troops of the Kansas National guard and the regular army. Meanwhile Col. Roosevelt's train had arrived and all the thousands of people assembled here went to the station to greet him.

After dinner all gathered in the new park, where there was a parade by the soldiery, the Grand Army Woman's Relief corps and civic societies and another band concert. Then, after a vocal solo by Miss Elizabeth Uhlis and an invocation, the president of the board of trustees, Cora M. Deputy, formally presented the park to the state on behalf of the Woman's Relief corps of Kansas, which bought the ground. Governor Stubbs responded gracefully for the state, and then the chairman, J. B. Remington, introduced the distinguished orator of the day, former President Roosevelt.

Orator by Colonel Roosevelt.

Col. Roosevelt stood silent and smiling until the storm of applause had died down, and then spoke as follows:

There have been two great crises in our country's history; first when it was formed, and then again when it was perpetuated. The formative period included not merely the Revolutionary war, but the creation and adoption of the Constitution. It then came sixty years during which we spread across the continent—years of vital growth, but of growth without rather than growth within. Then came the time of stress and strain which culminated in the Civil war, the period of terrible struggle upon the issue of which depended the justification of all that we had done earlier, and which marked the second great period of growth and development within. The name of John Brown will be forever associated with this second period of the Nation's history; and Kansas was the theater upon which the first act of the second of our great National life dramas was played. It was the result of the struggle in Kansas which determined that our country should be in deed as well as in name devoted to both union and freedom, that the great experiment of democratic government on a National scale should succeed and not fail. It was a heroic struggle; and, as is inevitable with all such struggles, it had also a dark and terrible side. Very much was done of good, and much also of evil. It was inevitable in such a period of revolution, often the same man did both good and evil. For our great good fortune as a Nation, we, the people of the United States as a whole, can now afford to forget the evil, and remember only the good without bitterness, and to fix our eyes with pride on the good that was accomplished. Even in ordinary times there are very few of us who do not see the problems of life as through a glass, darkly; and when the glasses are clouded by the murk of furious popular passion, the vision of the best and the bravest is dimmed. Looking back, we are all of us able to do justice to the valor and the disinterestedness and the love of the right as to each it was given to see the right, shown both by the men of the north and the men of the south in that contest which was finally decided by the attitude of the west. We can admire the heroic valor, the sincerity, the devotion shown alike by the men who wore the blue and the men who wore the gray; and our sadness that such men should have had to fight one another is tempered by the glad knowledge that ever hereafter their descendants should be fighting side by side, struggling in peace as well as in war for the uplift of their common country, all alike resolved to raise to the highest pitch of honor and usefulness the Nation to which they all belong. As for the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, they deserve honor and recognition such as is paid to no other citizens of the Republic; for to them the Republic owes its all, for to them it owes its very existence.

Application of the Lesson.

I do not speak of this struggle of the past merely from the historic standpoint. Our interest is primarily in the application today of the lessons taught by the contest of half a century ago. It is of little use for us to pay lip loyalty to the mighty men of the past unless we sincerely endeavor to apply to the problems of the present precisely the qualities which in other crises enabled the men of that day to meet those crises. It is half-melancholy and half-amusing to see the way in which well-meaning people gather to do honor to the men who, in company with John Brown, and under the lead of Abraham Lincoln, faced and solved the great problems of the nineteenth century, while at the same time these same good people nervously shrink from or frankly denounce those who are trying to meet the problems of the twentieth in the spirit which was accountable for the successful solution of the problems of Lincoln's time.

Of that generation of men, to whom we owe so much, the man to whom we owe the most is, of course, Lincoln. Part of our debt to him is because he forecast our present struggle and saw the way out. He said:

"I hold that while man exists it is his duty to improve not only his own condition but to assist in ameliorating mankind." And again, "Labor is prior to and independent of capital; capital is only the fruit of labor, and could never have existed but for labor. Labor is the superior of capital and deserves much the higher consideration. Capital has its rights which are as worthy of protection as any other rights." We should this day be at war upon the owners of property. Property is the fruit of labor; property is a privilege; it is a positive good in the world. Let not him who is benevolent pull down the house of another, but let him work diligently and build one for himself, thus by example showing that his own shall be safe from violence when built." It seems to me that in these words Lincoln took substantially the attitude that we ought to take; he showed the proper sense of proportion in his relative estimates of capital and labor, of human rights and property rights. Above all, in this speech, as in many others, he taught a lesson in wise kindness and charity; an indispensable lesson to us of today. But this wise kindness and charity never weakened his arm or numbed his heart. We cannot afford weakly to blind ourselves to the actual conflict which faces us today. The issue is joined, and we must fight or fail.

Equality of Opportunity.

In every wise struggle for human betterment one of the main objects, and often the only object, has been to achieve in some measure equality of opportunity. In the struggle for this great end, nations rise from barbarism to civilization, and through it peoples press forward from one stage of enlightenment to the next. One of the chief factors in progress is the destruction of special privilege. The essence of any struggle for healthy liberty has always been and must always be to take from some one man or class of men the right to enjoy power, or wealth, or position, or immunity, which has not been earned by service to his or their fellows.

At many stages in the advance of humanity this conflict between the man who possesses more than they have and the men who have earned more than they possess is the central condition of progress. In our day it appears as the struggle of free men to gain and hold the right of self-government as against the special interests, who twist the methods of free government into machinery for defeating the popular will. At every stage and under all circumstances the essence of the struggle is to equalize opportunity, destroy privilege, and give to the life and citizenship of every individual the highest possible value both to himself and to the commonwealth. Practical equality of opportunity for all citizens, when we achieve it, will have two great results. First, every man will have a fair chance to make of himself all that in him lies, to reach the highest point to which his capacities, unassisted by special privilege of his own and unimpeded by the special privileges of others, can carry him, and to get for himself and his family substantially what he has earned. Second, equality of opportunity means that the commonwealth will get from every citizen the highest service of which he is capable. No man who carries the burden of the special privileges of another can give to the commonwealth that service to which it is fairly entitled.

I stand for the square deal. But when I say that I am for the square deal I mean not merely that I stand for fair play under the present rules of the game, but that I stand for having those rules changed so as to work for a more substantial equality of opportunity, and of reward for equally good service.

This means that our governments, National and State, must be freed from the sinister influence or control of special interests. Exactly as the special interests of cotton and slavery threatened political integrity before the Civil war, so now the great special business interests too often control and corrupt the men and methods of government for their own profit. We must drive the special interests out of politics. That is one of our tasks today. Every special interest is entitled to justice—full, fair, and complete—but not one is entitled to a vote in Congress, a voice on the bench, or to representation in any public office. The constitution guarantees protection to property, and we must make that promise good. But it does not give the right of suffrage to any corporation.

Property Should Be the Servant.

The true friend of property, the true conservative, is he who insists that property shall be the servant and not the master of the commonwealth, who insists that the creature of man's making shall be the servant and not the master of the man who made it. The citizen of the United States must effectively control the mighty commercial forces which they have themselves called into being.

There can be no effective control of corporations while their political interests remain. To put an end to it will be neither a short nor an easy task, but it can be done.

We must have complete and effective publicity of corporate affairs, so that the people may know beyond peradventure whether the corporations obey the law and whether their management entitles them to the confidence of the public. It is necessary that laws should be passed to prohibit the use of corporate funds directly or indirectly for political purposes; it is still more necessary that such laws should be thoroughly enforced. Corporate expenditures for political purposes, and especially such expenditures by public service corporations, have supplied one of the principal sources of corruption in our political affairs.

It has become entirely clear that we must have government supervision of the capitalization not only of public service corporations, including particularly railroads, but of all corporations doing an interstate business. I do not wish to see the Nation forced into ownership of the railroads if it can possibly be avoided, and the only alternative is thoroughgoing and effective regulation, which shall be based on a full knowledge of all the facts, including a physical valuation of the property. This physical valuation is not needed, or at least is very rarely needed, for fixing rates; but it is needed as the basis of honest capitalization.

We have come to recognize that franchises should never be granted except for a limited time, and never without proper provision for compensation to the public. It is my personal belief that the same kind and degree of control and supervision which should be exercised over public service corporations should be extended also to combinations which control necessities of life, such as meat, oil, and coal, or which deal in them on an important scale.

I believe that the officers, and especially the directors, of corporations, should be held personally responsible when any corporation breaks the law.

Dealing With Combinations.

Combinations in industry are the result of an imperative economic law which cannot be repealed by political legislation. The effort to regulate all combinations has substantially failed. The way out lies not in attempting to prevent such combinations, but in completely controlling them in the interest of the public welfare. For this purpose the Federal Bureau of Corporations is an agency of the first importance. Its power and effectiveness its efficiency, as well as that of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, should be largely increased. We have a right to expect from the Bureau of Corporations and from the Inter-State Commerce Commission a very high grade of public service. We should be sure of the proper conduct of inter-state railways and the proper management of inter-state business as we are now sure of the conduct and management of the National banks. We need an effective supervisory vision in one case as in the other. The Hepburn act, and the amendment to that act in the shape in which it finally passed Congress at the last session, represent a long step in advance and we must go yet further.

There is a widespread belief among our people that, under the methods obtained, the special interests are too influential. Probably this is true of both the big interests and the little interests. These methods have put a premium on selfishness, and naturally the selfish big interests have gotten more than the selfish small interests. The duty of Congress is to provide a method by which the selfish people shall be all that receive consideration. To this end there must be an expert tariff commission, wholly removed from the possibility of political pressure or of improper business influence. Such a commission can find out the real difference between cost of production, which is mainly the difference of labor cost here and abroad. As fast as its recommendations are made, I believe in revising one schedule at a time. General revision of the tariff almost inevitably leads to log-rolling, and the subordination of the general public interest to local and special interests.

The absence of effective state, and especially National, restraint upon unfair competition, and the consequent small class of enormously wealthy and economically powerful men, whose chief object is to hold and increase their power. The prime need is to change the conditions which enable these men to accumulate power which it is not for the general welfare that they should hold or exercise. We grudge no man a fortune which represents his own power and sagacity, when exercised with entire regard to the welfare of his fellows. But the fortune must be honorably obtained and well used. It is not even enough that it should have been gained without doing damage to the community. We should permit it to be gained only so long as the gaining represents benefit to the community. The principle of a policy of far more active governmental interference with social and economic conditions in this country than we have yet had, but I think we have got to face the fact that such an increase in governmental control is now necessary.

Income and Inheritance Taxes.

No man should receive a dollar unless that dollar has been fairly earned. Every dollar received should represent a dollar's worth of service rendered. The really big fortune, the swollen fortune, by the mere fact of its size, acquires qualities which differentiate it in kind as well as in degree from what is possessed by men of relatively small means. Therefore, I believe in graduated income tax on big fortunes, and in another tax which is far more easily collected and far more effective—a graduated inheritance tax on big fortunes, properly safeguarded against evasion, and increasing rapidly in amount with the size of the estate.

The people of the United States suffer from periodical financial panics to a degree substantially unknown among the other nations which approach us in financial strength. There is no reason we should suffer what they escape. It is of profound importance that our financial system should be promptly investigated, and so thoroughly and effectively revised as to make it certain that hereafter our currency will no longer fall at critical times to meet our needs.

It is hardly necessary for me to repeat that I believe in an efficient army and a navy large enough to secure for us abroad that respect which is the respect of peace and justice and fair dealing among nations rest on principles identical with those which control justice and fair dealing among the individuals of which nations are composed; with the vital exception that each nation must do its own part in international police work. National friendships, like those between men, must be founded on respect as well as on liking, on forbearance as well as on trust. In all this it is peculiarly the duty of the United States to set a good example.

Of conservation I shall speak more at length elsewhere. Conservation means development as much as it does protection. I recognize the right and the duty of this generation to use the resources of our land, but I do not recognize the right to waste them, or to rob, by wasteful use, the generations that come after us. The natural resources must be used for the benefit of all our people, and must be conserved for the benefit of the few. That is one of the fundamental reasons why the special interests must be driven out of politics. Of all the questions which can come before this Nation, short of the actual preservation of its own parts, the most important, there is none which compares in importance with the great central task of leaving this land even a better land for our descendants than it is for us, and training them to be better men to inhabit the land and to be better citizens of the Nation.

Conservation is a great moral issue, for it involves the patriotic duty of insuring the safety and continuance of the Nation. Let me add that the health and vitality of our people are at least as well worth conserving as their forests, lands, and minerals, and that in this great work the National government must bear a most important part.

I have spoken elsewhere also of the great issue which lies before the farmers of the country to get for themselves and for their wives and children not only the benefits of better farming, but also those of better business methods and better conditions of life on the farm. The burden of this great task will fall, as it should, mainly upon the great organizations of the farmers themselves. I am glad it will, for I believe they are well able to handle it. In particular, there are strong reasons why the department of the United States department of agriculture, and the agricultural colleges and experiment stations should extend their work to cover all phases of life on the farm, instead of limiting themselves as they have far too often limited themselves in the past, solely to the question of the production of crops.

Human Welfare Comes First.

Nothing is more true than that excess of every kind followed by reaction; a fact which should be pondered by reformer and reactionary alike. We are face to face with new conceptions of the relations of property to human welfare, chiefly because certain advocates of the rights of property as against the rights of men have been pushing their claims too far. The man who wrongly holds that every human right is secondary to his profit must now give way to the advocates of human welfare, who rightly maintain that every man holds his property subject to the general right of the community to regulate its use to whatever degree the public welfare may require it. But I think we may go still further. The right to regulate the use of property in the public interest is universally admitted. Let us admit also the right to regulate the terms and conditions of labor, which is the chief element of wealth, directly because it regulates the human good, the fundamental thing to do for mankind, to give him the chance to reach a place in which he will make the greatest possible contribution to the public welfare.

No man can be a good citizen unless he has a wage more than sufficient to cover the bare cost of living, and hours of labor short enough so that after his day's work is done he will have time and energy to bear his share in the management of the community, to help in carrying the general load. We keep countless men from being good citizens by the conditions of life with which we surround them. We need comprehensive workmen's compensation acts, both state and National laws to regulate child labor and the work of women, and especially we need in our common schools not merely education in book-learning but also practical training for daily life and work. We need to enforce better sanitary conditions for our workers, and to extend the use of safety appliances in industry and commerce both within and between the states. Also, friends, in the interest of the workmen himself we need to set our faces like flint against mob violence just as against corporate greed; against violence and injustice and lawlessness by wage-workers just as much as against lawless cunning and greed and selfish arrogance of employers.

National efficiency has many factors. It is a necessary result of the principle of conservation widely applied. In the end it will determine our failure or success as a Nation. National efficiency has to do not only with natural resources and with men. It is equally concerned with institutions. The state must be made efficient for the work which concerns only the people of the state; and the Nation for that which concerns all the people. There must remain no neutral ground to serve as a refuge for lawbreakers, and especially for lawbreakers of great wealth, who can hire the cunning legal cunning which will teach them how to avoid both jurisdiction and the most unfortunate when the National legislature fails to do its duty in providing a National remedy, so that the only National activity is the purely negative activity of the judiciary in forbidding the state to exercise power in the premises.

Call for Broad Nationalism.

I do not ask for over-centralization, but I do ask that we work in a spirit of broadest far-reaching Nationalism. We work for what concerns our people as a whole. We are all Americans. Our common interests are as broad as the continent. I speak to you here in Kansas exactly as I would speak in New York or Georgia. The most vital problems are those which affect us all alike. The National government belongs to the whole American people, and where the whole American people are interested, the interest can be guarded effectively only by the National government. The betterment which we seek must be accomplished, I believe, mainly through the National government.

The American people are right in demanding that the new Nationalism without which we cannot hope to deal with new problems. The new Nationalism puts the National need before sectional or personal advantage. It is impatient of the utter confusion that results from local legislatures attempting to treat National issues as local issues. It is still more impatient of the impotence which springs from the over-division of government powers, the impotence which makes it possible for local selfishness or for legal cunning, hired by wealthy special interests, to bring National activities to a deadlock. This new Nationalism regards the executive power as the steward of the public welfare. It demands of the judiciary that it shall be interested primarily in human welfare rather than in property, just as it demands that the representative body shall represent all the people, rather than any one class or section of the people.

I believe in shaping the ends of government to protect property as well as human welfare. Normally, and in the long run, the ends are the same, but whenever the alternative must be faced I am for men and not for property. I am far from underestimating the importance of dividends, but I rank dividends below human character. I know well that the reformers must not bring upon the people economic ruin, or the reforms themselves will be down in the ruin. But we must be ready to face temporary disaster, whether or not brought on by those who will war against us to the knife. Those who oppose all reform will do well to remember that ruin in its worst form is inevitable if our National life brings us nothing better than swollen fortunes for the few and the triumph to both politics and business of a sordid and selfish materialism.

Honesty in Public Servants.

If our political institutions were perfect, they would absolutely prevent the political domination of money in any part of our affairs. We need to make our political representatives more quickly and more actively responsive to the people whose servants they are. More direct action by the people in their own affairs under proper safeguards is vitally necessary. The direct primary is a step in this direction if it is associated with a corrupt practices act effective to prevent the advantage of the man willing recklessly and unscrupulously to spend money over his more honest competitor. It is particularly important that all money received or expended for campaign purposes should be publicly accounted for not only after election but before election as well. Political action must be made simpler, easier, and freer from confusion for every citizen. I believe that the removal of unfaithful or incompetent public servants should be made easy and sure in whatever way experience shall show to be most expedient in any given class of cases.

One of the fundamental necessities in a representative government such as ours is to make certain that the men to whom the people delegate their power shall serve the people by whom they are elected, and not the special interests. I believe that every National officer, elected or appointed, should be forbidden to perform any service or receive any compensation directly or indirectly from interstate corporations; and a similar provision could not fail to be useful within the states.

The object of government is the welfare of the people. The material progress and prosperity of a nation are desirable chiefly so far as they lead to the material and material welfare of all good citizens. Just in proportion as the average man and woman are honest, capable of sound judgment and high ideals, active in public affairs—but first of all active in their home life, and the father and mother of healthy children—just so far and no farther we may count our civilization a success. We must have—I believe we have already—a genuine and permanent moral awakening, without which no wisdom of legislation or administration means anything; and, on the other hand, we must try to secure the social and economic legislation without which any improvement due to purely moral agitation is necessarily evanescent. What we need is good citizens. Good citizenship means progress; and therefore all good citizens should stand for progress, and must be progressive.

TOBACCO TIDINGS ENCOURAGING

Conservative Farmers Place Fifty per cent of the present Crop as of Superior Quality.

GOOD QUALITY ASSURED

"Fifty per cent. of the 1910 crop," said a safe and conservative farmer to me on yesterday, will prove to be of superb quality, the best in years; forty per cent. will be of a higher average quality than any forty per cent. of last year's crop, and only about ten per cent. will be indifferent and nondescript. Of course," he continued, "I am assuming the late tobacco yet to be garnered will meet with no accident, and will be handled nicely—and as a matter of course I am speaking of Henderson county tobacco, for I know nothing of the other counties from personal observation—but I am persuaded by what I hear the same high quality will characterize the 1910 crop throughout the Stemming district territory."

In line with this subject of quality I beg leave to quote an experienced tobacco man who has been riding over the country singing up the crop. He said "More farmers are firing this year than for many years, and that will add greatly to good quality. Several of your members said to me 'We had about quit firing tobacco, but on the advice of Mr. Elliott we are firing this crop, because we value Mr. Elliott's advice. He, better than we, knows the requirements of the market.'"

When Manager Elliot was told the news contained in the foregoing paragraph, he said "I am truly rejoiced to learn good members are firing more than in the past few years. It will pay them handsomely to do so. If only great care is exercised the risk of burning a barn is reduced to a minimum. For instance—no stick of tobacco should be hung on the lower tiers that isn't long enough to take good hold on the tiers poles, and on any lower tier stick liable to fall should be left on that stick. The late cutting of tobacco will be wonderfully improved by firing, and quality, quality, quality is what sells. But do be careful to beseech members to use the greatest caution in firing. In every instance they should have one or two barrels of water and several buckets handy, and only alert and prudent men should superintend the firing..."

GET IT STRAIGHT

Farmers are so busy that when night comes they are too weary to read. Daily some farmers says to me: "I take the Journal, or the Gleaner," as the case may be, "but I have not read a paper for a week. Tell me," etc. etc. And I proceed to tell him, and it gives me great pleasure to do so. It is the policy of the District Committee to, through this column, promptly furnish members with Association information. To meet the expectations of the committee, and to keep members thoroughly posted, I sometimes resort to reiteration in this column.

To instance, I told Thursday through the Gleaner about the final forthcoming payment on warehouse receipts. Good members rather expected this distribution by the first of September, but a press of office work, the annual report, etc., etc., prevented. The reason for the delay was given members and they, sweet reasonableness, ungrudgingly acquiesced in the unavoidable delay.

And today, that all members may be better posted, I shall again tell about the final payment on 1908 crop.

It will be remembered, that members were paid in cash on delivery 75 per cent. It will also be remembered that a big fraction of that crop was hail-beaten and damaged. Offers were made the Association for this hailbeaten tobacco, but the committee declined the offers as being inadequate. The tobacco was received and warehouse receipts issued therefor. These receipts represented 25 per cent. of value of tobacco delivered. Subsequently 20 per cent. of this amount was distributed to members. All of which was, in every detail, explained by Manager Elliott Sept. 3rd at the annual meeting.

"The remainder due," Mr. Elliott went on to say, "on warehouse receipts will be ready for distribution by not later than October 1. Members have already been paid 95 cents due on every dollar's worth of tobacco of the 1908 crop delivered.

"The final payment," Mr. Elliott went on to say, "will be ready not later than October 1, and this final payment will amount to 31-10 per cent. The total, therefore, paid and to be paid members on the 1908 crop will be 98 1-10 cents on every dollar's worth of tobacco delivered. And I submit your committee acted wisely in refusing to sell the hail-beaten and damaged 1908 tobacco at the prices first offered by the buyers. Had committee then sold the hail-beaten and damaged tobacco at the prices then offered only about a total of 85 to 90 cents could have been paid on the 1908 warehouse receipts. By refusing to sell at inadequate prices the committee, after paying storage and insurance on that hail-beaten and damaged stuff, has realized 98 1-10 cents on the 1908 crop, and the last payment will be ready for members in three weeks—by October 1."

Thus Mr. Elliot, and I submit, the district committee is entitled to great credit in the premises.

Attention Sick Women

If you had positive proof that a certain remedy for female ills had made many remarkable cures, would you not feel like trying it?

If during the last thirty years we have not succeeded in convincing every fair-minded woman that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured thousands and thousands of women of the ills peculiar to their sex, then we long for an opportunity to do so by direct correspondence. Meanwhile read the following letters which we guarantee to be genuine and truthful.

Hudson, Ohio.—"I suffered for a long time from a weakness, inflammation, dreadful pains each month and suppression. I had been doctoring and receiving only temporary relief, when a friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and wrote to you for advice. I have faithfully followed your directions and now, after taking only five bottles of the Vegetable Compound, I have every reason to believe I am a well woman. I give you full permission to use my testimonial."

—Mrs. Lena Carmolino, Hudson, Ohio. R. F. D. No. 7.
St. Regis Falls, N. Y.—"Two years ago I was so bad that I had to take to my bed every month, and it would last from two to three weeks. I wrote to you for advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in dry form. I am happy to say that I am cured, thanks to your medicine and good advice. You may use my letter for the good of others."—Mrs. J. H. Breyer, St. Regis Falls, N. Y.

There is absolutely no doubt about the ability of this grand old remedy, made from the roots and herbs of our fields, to cure female diseases. We possess volume of proof of this fact, enough to convince the most skeptic.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

ELK FLOUR

SOLD ON PROOF—NOT CLAIMS

If you do not find Elk Flour all that we say it is, you will have your money back—you will have lost nothing.

If you do find Elk Flour to be more economical—much superior in quality to any other flour—then you can't know it any too soon.

We might argue in advertising—just as other advertisers do—that our product is "best."

But Elk Flour really has the superior quality—which enables us to permit Elk Flour itself to convince you of its own superior quality, right in your home.

We make Elk Flour from the best grade of Crittenden county wheat and connected with the fact that we have the latest improved machinery for cleaning and our mills absolutely perfect from top to bottom it is no wonder that Elk Flour is so popular in every home.

We buy wheat only for our own consumption, hence buy the best. Mills that speculate in wheat frequently get mixed wheat in their best brands. This is averted with us.

Buy the best, THE ELK.

HOME ENTERPRISE A SUCCESS

This week a car containing 40 thousand pounds of granite was received by Henry & Henry the Monument men of this place. In this shipment was a large monument, which is now being erected on the lot of Mrs. R. W. Wilson in the new cemetery, and marks the resting place of one of Marion's most highly respected citizens. In this car were also two handsome monuments for the father and mother of Mrs. Fin Croft of Tolu, Ky. and another fine monument sold to Dr. T. W. Twitchell, of Belleville, Ill.

The Henry Bros., shop and equipment for handling heavy monuments is not surpassed by any of their competitors, and it has come to be noticeable to all that are interested in this line of business, that these gentlemen are among the leaders of all the firms doing this kind of work in Western Kentucky.

REAPING BENEFIT.

From the Experience of Marion People.

We are fortunate indeed to be able to profit by the experience of our neighbors. The public utterances of Marion residents on the following subject will interest and benefit thousands of our readers. Read this statement. No better proof can be had.

Mrs. Emma Weldon, Salem St., Marion, Ky., says: "Kidney trouble annoyed me for five years and greatly affected my health. My back was lame and pained me most of the time, I had frequent headaches and often could scarcely see. None of the remedies I tried gave me any benefit until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Haynes & Taylor's Drug Store. The effect of this remedy was truly marvelous. In two months I was free from every symptom of kidney trouble. My only regret is that I did not hear of Doan's Kidney Pills sooner, as they would have saved me much expense and misery."

HOW TO CURD DCDMB, PIMPLDS AND DANDRUFF

We desire to say that when we took the agency for Zemo, we were convinced that it was a valuable remedy for Eczema, pimples, and dandruff. Yet we must frankly admit that Eczema has far exceeded our expectations as a treatment for skin diseases. We are pleased to state that we shall continue the agency as Zemo has given splendid results wherever recommended. Our customers like Zemo too, because it is a clean vegetable liquid for external use.

Zemo effects its cures by drawing to the surface of the skin and destroying the germ life that causes the disease, leaving the skin clear and healthy. It does not soil the clothing or linen and can be used freely on infants.

With every purchase, we give a book let on skin diseases explaining in simple words how any person can be cured at home of any form of skin or scalp disease by this clean, scientific remedy. Haynes & Taylor Druggists.

In Memoriam.

In memory of my loving cousin, Linnie Hunt. Every circle of friends every loving family must some day be broken.

In this mortal sphere there exist no tie of love, no bond of friendship but what some day be torn-a-sunder. Before that silent angel of death, every mortal must fall. He spares not he whose locks are white with frost with many winters. He spares not the bright on promising youth.

Thus the Death Angel has laid his palled hand upon a bright young lady and a family loses a loved one, many loses a friend.

Dear friends, darling Linnie has gone for a little while.

Oh I know we will miss her sweet face with its radiant smile.

Her seat at church is vacant now And she has passed away to a world where all is happiness, a world of endless day.

It seems so hard to part with her when she was so dear to u all,

But weep not dear family for it was the Savior's call.

He needed her to shine in that beautiful home so fair,

Where she is happy without a thought of an earthly care

So from His garden of flowers he plucked this gem so rare,

And Heaven has gained a jewel by Linnie's presents thers.

Oh, when my work is done and life on earth no more

O, Linnie my precious Cousin, I'll meet you on the other shore.

JOHN. R. FINLEY IS DR. D. F. HARRISON DEAD. IN GREAT MEETING.

Passed to his Reward Tuesday
Morning at 7 O'clock, Funeral
Yesterday Evening.

John Randolph Finley died at his home on Main street at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning Sept. 13, from the effect of a stroke of paralysis overtaking him while in the post office a week ago.

Mr. Finley was of a highly respected family, a well educated, courteous gentleman, whom everyone respected. He had not been in good health for some time which seemed to make his 66 years rest heavy on him.

Decensed leaves a wife and five children and a vast number of relatives to lament his death. The children are: Percy Finley, with the Rock Island R. R., at Oklahoma City, Arthur Finley, a prominent insurance man of Louisville, Mrs. Fannie Terry, of Bluffs, Mo., Miss Annie, of Louisville and Miss Mary, who is one of the teachers of the county.

The funeral services were conducted from the home at 4 o'clock yesterday evening by Rev. A. J. Thomson of the Presbyterian church and Rev. J. W. Flynn of the Christian church, the interment taking place at the New cemetery immediately after.

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY
Will Surely Stop That Cough.

Has Been Preaching Some Soul-
Stiring Sermons From the Presbyterian Pulpit.

Since Sunday week, Sept. 4 Rev. D. F. Harrison of Madisonville has been preaching a series of sermons from the pulpit of the Main street Presbyterian church that have been greatly enjoyed and favorably commented on by all who have heard them.

Bro. Harrison, while a young man and less than a year in the ministry, preaches with the power and force of a man of many years service for the Master. He was born and reared in the revered land of Scotland, the home of Wallace, Bruce, Burns, and others whose memory will be kept green so long as the world stands, and is of a type of man by no means different. We have been listening to his earnest sermons and they have done us good as they have every soul so fortunate as to have heard them and while up to this hour there have been but few professions, the meeting has proven of more real benefit than any held in this church in years and will ultimately prove a great blessing to Marion.

Bro. Harrison is assisted by Rev. Edward K. Temple, the noted singing Evangelist, of Bowling Green. Bro. Temple is a man of fine appearance, a christian above reproach, endowed with a good voice and a thorough knowledge of music who for the glory of God is using his great gift in an effort to save souls. He will leave at the close of this meeting to fill an engagement in North Carolina.
